1.  the M.S. MICKIEWICZ, flying the Polish flag, began loading cargoes destined for China at the Rotterdam Wharf in Gdynia. Among other goods, was an unspecified number of cases, each weighing approximately 30 tons. These had to be loaded by means of a floating crane, since a sufficiently powerful crane is not available on this wharf. The cases had been brought by barge from an unspecified place and were loaded direct from barge to ship. The cases were said to have contained tanks. The MICKIEWICZ was due to leave Gdynia
